

ABITHA'S APOTHECARY

What Is Old World Witchcraft?

Our ancestors did not separate magick and witchcraft from their daily lives. Witchcraft was more than just a practice, it was a way of life. A way of looking at the physical and spiritual as a collaborative source of manifestation.

In this way, Old World Witchcraft honors the all-encompassing lifestyle of the witch. We are in tune with nature, in tune with ourselves and in alignment with our all-knowing inner witch. Old World Witchcraft by its very nature is operative and results-oriented. It has stood the test of time for a reason: It Works. Its ability to manifest measurable results is the authentic reason of its continued presence in the world.

By removing the unattainable and overly complicated misconceptions regarding witchcraft, magick and the occult, our method shows exactly how (and why!) you can masterfully alter all life's circumstances and thrive as an independent master of your experience.

This is the shortest, most intense, and direct route to understanding your own power.

We're not here to teach you wishful thinking. We're not here to teach you a new age religion. We're not here to tell you to 'get happy' and everything will just fall on your lap. We're not here to feel sorry for you. And we're certainly not here to tell you to 'coddle your inner child'.

We don't believe in Karma, we don't believe in Dogma, we don't believe in judgments and we don't believe in the Wiccan Rede.

We believe in you. We believe making peace with the outside world begins from within. We believe by learning to love and appreciate ourselves, we experience the world differently. We believe in making our own rules and following our own inner voice. We believe in ultimate free will. And most importantly, we believe in magick. This is the advanced stage of self-development and self-empowerment.

Old World Witchcraft is for those who are not seeking a guide book to life. It is for those who make their own rules, those who not require permission and those who follow their own inner voice.

OldWorldWitchcraft.com shows you how to put energetic principles to physical work and to achieve absolutely all your desires through the natural magickal practices of our ancestors. By following our simple, easy to follow foundation, almost anyone can harness the magickal forces that create worlds and use them to their own advantage. This is the secret power of the Old World Witch.

We hold the intention of reaching people who seek an alternative change in their lives. Those who are not afraid of the mysterious and the sometimes "forbidden". Old World Witchcraft embraces the spirit of free inquiry and celebrates the forbidden as a declaration of independence.

Embrace your Old World Witch - she's waiting.

Ten Magical Herbs to Have on Hand Series

1. Apple Blossoms

For the ancients, the apple was considered a symbol of immortality. Interestingly, it's also seen as a food for the dead, which is why Samhain is sometimes referred to as the Feast of Apples. In Celtic myth, an apple branch bearing grown fruit, flowers, and unopened bud was a magical key to the land of the Underworld. The apple is often found as a component in love magic, and the blossoms may be added to incenses and brews.

There is no full moon this month. However, there were two in January and there will be two in March, so don't feel deprived. February 13 is Mardi Gras, with a Sun-Uranus sextile. There is a possibility of wild and crazy fun in a big way. The new moon (and solar eclipse) on the fifteenth is packed with charm, smarts, and maybe the return of a few old habits, for good or ill. No matter how you feel, the world wants you to be upbeat and have fun. On February 26, the moon-Uranus square could cause second thoughts. Don't be too hard on yourself.

February has no full moon this year. That's okay. February 1 is the day after one and February 28 is the day before one. Feelings are high and hearts are full as the month begins and as it ends. The new moon (and solar eclipse) on the fifteenth is a precious, private time for you, even if you're busier than usual. Save time and energy to reflect on what is happening to and around you - and what it all really means to you. On February 21, Venus conjoins Neptune in Pisces for possibly the most romantic, dreamy day of the year. Don't float away.

Poem of Brigid (Traditional Wicca)

Brigid they name me
 And three gifts of fire I bring:
 First, the flame of inspiration,
 Frenzy of poet and anguish of artist,
 And passion of lover for union with the beloved;
 Second, the fierce fire of the smith-craft,
 Through whose testing all must pass;
 And third, the most precious of all,
 Which eases the second's pain,
 The undying warmth of healing,
 he last and greatest gift
 Of the ever-returning sun.
